P193 V3
PERFORMANCE ONE SERIES

Larger and more versatile, the Antec P193 stands apart from the competition with room to handle the biggest hardware out there. Together with the cooling features and Quiet Computing™ technologies that the Performance One series is renowned for, the P193 is truly in a class all its own.

Protruding 200 mm side fan with easily removable air filter cools all your hardware without sacrificing internal space for your build

Innovative two-layer side panel (steel with polycarbonate) dampens system-generated noise, making this one of the quietest cases available

Unique Power Supply Option: Comes with a power supply mounting adapter to mount either a standard size power supply or the unique Antec CP-850 or CP-1000 super quiet, high performance power supply
