QUICKLY FIT EITHER EAR

The headset comes out of the box with the earloop in place to wear on your right ear.

1. Place the earloop behind your ear.
Position the headset so that the speaker rests comfortably in your ear.

2. Align the microphone with the corner of your mouth. Callers can hear you best when you point the microphone towards the corner of your mouth.

It's easy to move earloop to fit on your left ear.

1. Remove the earloop by lifting straight up.
2. Reposition the earloop and snap it back down.

Understand the Tones You Hear:

This headset beeps different tones to advise you on what it is doing.

Usually, a high tone requires you to act (e.g. you lost the Bluetooth connection or need to recharge battery) but a low tone is just a reaction to you pressing a button (e.g. volume changes, call start/end).

A series of tones will sound for incoming calls and powering on or off.

Check the Battery Level:

If you are on a call and hear repeating rapid high tones then you have under 5 minutes talk time remaining.

Adjust the Volume:

At each volume change you will hear a tone matching the current volume level. At the volume limit you will hear two tones.

Stay Near Your Device:

Bluetooth has a working "range" of up to 30 feet between the device and headset before audio degrades and the connection is lost.

Know How to Reconnect:

Your headset tries to reconnect a lost connection. If it can't, then tap the Call button once or manually reconnect via the device's Bluetooth menu.

Bluetooth wireless technology provides a way for devices, like headsets and phones, to communicate with each other without wires.

"Pairing" is the set-up process of introducing your headset to your phone or PS3. Before using your headset for the first time, you must pair it with your Bluetooth-enabled device.

Pairing is a one-time process unless your phone loses the connection or you want to pair a new device.
